Shepherd's VOICE

Then He said, I will make my goodness pass before you, and I will proclaim the name of the Lord before you. I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.

Exodus 33:19

Many of you know I am part of a larger Missions Organization called Living Word Ministries International from Tucson, Arizona. If you would like to give through this organization, I have enclosed an envelope for this organization also. Using either envelope, the donations will go to our ministry in Myanmar.

I Myself Will Make All My Goodness Pass Before You...

Jesus taught numerous principles from His sermon on the mount in which some scholars have called the Constitution of the Kingdom. In this message, Jesus spoke about forgiveness, mercy, and giving, as well as other topics. In our Christmas outreach, our team did their best to amplify mercy and giving. We were able to distribute over 700 meals to children and families as well as gifts for the children. We are called to be channels of God's mercy. He wants to use us to pour out His goodness, His kindness, and His blessing upon a lost and dying world. We need to ask the Lord to help us forgive, give, and show mercy. This is His nature, and He wants to flow through us. As the team performed their dramas and cooked and handed out meals, I was reminded of the doxology, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow..." The doxology means more to me today than it did when I first learned it as a young boy. Wherever we are at today... our Father God is looking to meet us with His goodness, His kindness, and His blessing.

BIBLE SCHOOL: Our term break is over and our Bible students started off the year working and doing outreach in the jungle. The students went about 30 miles north of the Bible school campus and cut down bamboo, cut wood for burning, cleared some land, and planted vegetables on my in-laws' land. The students seemed to enjoy camping outside (they had tents) and working together as a team. On these outreaches, they learn to bond with each other as they do outreaches together in one of the local villages. The students are FAMILY: This past couple of weeks, my son Jeremiah is back in the classroom for school. So glad to have him back in the classroom with his friends! The schools have opened for in-classroom instruction. During our break, I took our family to the beach. This beach was not near the sea but was in the middle of a mountain side! The place is beautiful! My little son Joshua wants to go back to the beach.

THANK YOU: We appreciate your continued prayer and financial support. We are honored to be your missionary representative here in SE Asia.

now back in Bible school and will continue for a few more weeks into March before the hot season begins. We have been so blessed by the guest teachers that have taught through Zoom. Fortunately, Samuel and my father-in-law have been able to teach students in the classroom.

CHILDREN'S HOME: The new children in our Children's Home have adapted well to the different disciplines on our campus. Even though the students come with nothing to our home, we are putting deposits from Heaven into their hearts. Besides the daily devotionals, the children have Friday night worship, and their Saturday mornings are filled with learning different Bible stories as well as some English learning from my sister-in-law Ruth. We want to leave an impression upon their hearts that God loves them unconditionally and to love God, do good, and bless those around them. Of course, they are also learning the disciplines of work such as gardening, building a pig pen and keeping the campus clean. They also took a trip north with the Bible students to help with the planting vegetables and cutting wood and bamboo.
